Clergy 'Timid' Anglicans Say

OTTAWA (CP)—The present state of the Anglican Church of Canada is one of "amiable chaos," it was suggested this week during a meeting at which separate schools for Anglican children were proposed.

Anglican bishops and other clergy are "too timid" and there is no apparent desire to exercise authority within the Canadian church, said a report to the conference of Canadian University Canterbury clubs.

"Perhaps there should be separate schools for Anglicans as there are for Roman Catholic children," it said. Sunday school provided a "lot of lovely Bible stories" but nothing to help children understand their faith.

Anti-Apartheid Community

Famed Anglican Mission Sending Teachers Here

Two priests of the Anglican Community of the Resurrection, widely known for the stand of some of its members against the South African government's policy of apartheid, will conduct a teaching mission here in St. Barnabas' Church, starting Feb. 15.

Rev. Hilary Beasley and Rev. Andrew Blair will come here direct from the headquarters of the community at Mirfield in Yorkshire. Following an eight-day Victoria mission, they will travel across the continent stopping to preach at Vancouver, Seattle and other cities.

Other Island centres they will visit include Duncan and Alberni.

Their trip brings the Anglican church in Canada into direct contact once more with the community which made its first visit to B.C. in 1913.

QUESTIONS, INTERVIEWS

St. Barnabas' Church meetings will be held on Sundays at 7.30 p.m. and weekdays at 8 p.m. and will be open to the general public. There will be opportunities to ask questions and for personal interviews.

The community was founded more than 60 years ago by Bishop Gore and through the years has done evangelistic, educational and missionary work in Africa, Borneo, Ceylon, India, Australia and the West Indies.

FIRST SINCE 1936

The last time a Mirfield father visited this province was in 1936.

The community has trained many men for the ministry and much of its pioneer work has been done in South Africa.

AGAINST POLICY

It was brought into the public eye in recent years by the stand of Mirfield fathers against the South African government's apartheid policy of segregating the colored peoples.

One of its members, Father Trevor Huddleston, wrote a book on racial strife in the union called "Nought for Your Comfort."

THE VOICE OF ONE

By REV. DR. FRANK S. MORLEY

No feature of Canadian life is more disturbing than the appalling indifference of many public men to religion. Most belong to one of three groups—those who give it casual patronage, those who give it contemptuous disregard, and those who dismiss it as unimportant and optional, "a matter of taste."

One day politicians will waken to the fact that our civilization depends on our Christian creed. The form of society is fashioned by the faith of society. Democracy is made by Christian doctrine. The fruits of our culture are produced from roots of Christian character. The high cost of maintaining democracy is the preservation of dynamic Christian faith.

First, let us acknowledge that Communism is a mighty aggressive faith, which Laski called "a Church militant" and which Middleton Murry described as "the one living religion in the Western World today." The Communists certainly believe in foreign missions and number their converts by the tens of millions.

Secondly, let us recognize the infiltration of Communist ideas into our life. Communists believe (a) God doesn't matter; democracy believes "this nation under God." (b) The state is supreme; democracy believes with Edith Cavell "patriotism is not enough." (c) The chief motive of life is hate; democracy believes in love.

Thirdly, realize that the appalling secularization of life and the loss of the meaningfulness of life makes just the right soil for the growth of the totalitarian state and Communist doctrine. The state can only treat a man as a thing when man regards himself as a thing.

TRAGIC SIGNIFICANCE

Can anyone be unaware of the tragic significance of writers like Kafka? Of the dehumanization of music that dates from Debussy? Of the materialism of culture that runs through Darwin, Marx and Wagner? Of the despiritualization of personality from Giotto and Titian to Sargent? Of the "accidie" haunting James Joyce in which man tries to fill "the dailiest day possible" with trivialities? Of prophets like Kierkegaard warning us of "The Sickness Unto Death" in which man oscillates between despair and megalomania?

I beseech you to think, if only for a moment to think! Only a passion can conquer a passion. Only a dynamic faith and not dollars and military might will in the end determine the struggle between Communist and democratic worlds. As Christopher Fry begs, "O be disturbed, Be disturbed Madam, to the extent of a tut . . ."

Cathedral Guest

Director of the literature and supplies department of the Anglican Church, Rev. Maxwell Parker tomorrow will conduct the morning service at Christ Church Cathedral and evensong at St. John's Anglican Church. Born in Ontario in 1904, he served in many eastern churches before taking his present position in 1954.

Metropolitan Marks Centenary

Moderator Here

Rt. Rev. Angus MacQueen, moderator of the United Church of Canada, will arrive here today to participate in the centennial anniversary services at Metropolitan United Church on Sunday.

Dr. MacQueen will preach at both morning and evening services. His subject in the morning will be "Too Good To Be True" and in the evening, "Peace of Mind—the Christian Way."

Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross will attend the morning services, accompanied by his aide, Brig. John Adam, Premier W. A. C. Bennett and members of his cabinet, acting mayor Arthur Dowell and members of city council, the reeves of the adjoining municipalities and representatives of the armed forces.

About 30 pioneers who attended the services which opened the present Metropolitan Church in 1891 will be in attendance.

Special music will be featured at both services. Members of First United Church congregation will worship with the Metropolitan congregation at the evening service.

A dessert party will be held at 6.30 p.m. Monday in Pendray Hall, which adjoins Metropolitan Church. It is expected 600 will attend. A special birthday cake, lighted by 100 candles, will be cut by Mrs. Aaron Parfitt, 90, one of the pioneers of the church.

Pioneers of the church will be guests of honor at this affair and will be greeted and looked after by Ronald Lochhead, chairman of the board of stewards, and Mrs. Lochhead and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Wills.

At 8 p.m., those attending the dessert party will adjourn to the sanctuary of Metropolitan to hear an address by the moderator.
